A curious reptile awaits a little lower to the right. the class rather than the name. Looks ready to fight in its net-like armour. "Zielona Górka" across the stream, Green Hill in English, is a vet another dream of wooden architecture. Let the lizard's long tail be your guide. The local square tells the tale of a former theatre. Actors used to swarm Krynica. Modrzejewska with them performed.

Before wondering where the Ouest's treasures are, focus for a while on the gold of shining stars: Not by chance " _____ " is this hotel's name:

Ignacy Mościcki overnighted here when he came to Krynica. Walk on to see the great ____ sit with his dog. Take his namesake street. Walk for a bit until you reach its end. That's where you need to be -Jan's Mineral Water Pumps! The location will see you completing the Quest. Combine the letters! A password they will form. With courage unfettered take it to the house of springs to collect your treasure: the expedition seal, which allows you to measure your progress in covering each mile of questing trails. There are others nearby. Try them without fail to find out more about Krynica. Now: back to the road. Dukiet's park is close by. Let your pace be slowed to observe its three corners. Across from where you're standing atop lavatories - a pavilion, the model within outstanding.

The mock-up shows the Promenade in the 19th century. Do stop by – it's a piece of wondrous history. Let the model offer its visual silent talk: you might see some houses familiar from the walk.

If still curious about the SPA and its mysteries, enquire about other Quests at the library. Tourist Information Office staff are also there for you -Or design your own new Quests. Trust us, it's fun too!

Quest code phrase:

The tourist trail was designed by participants of the "Questing -Discovering Local Legacy" workshop, in co-operation with the Municipal Library in Krynica-Zdrój.

Treasure (stamp):

Quest authors:

'Aktywna badź' (Be Active) Association, Tourist Information Office, Municipal Library in Krynica-Zdrój: Stasia K., Zosia R., Piotrek M., Joasia M., Agata J., Halina F., Agnieszka S., Grażyna C., Jolanta K., Iza S., Alina J.

Illustrations: Stasia K., Agnieszka S.

Translation: Aleksandra Sobczak-Kövesi

Quest Keeper:

Biblioteka Publiczna w Krynicy-Zdroju tel.: 18 471 22 03, bp@bibliotekakrynica.pl

Get the app!

www.skarbygorali.pl Get the badge!

Skarbv

Górali

www.questy.org.pl Get the app!

BIBLIOTEKA PUBLICZNA

Get the badge!

Krynicy-Zdroji

QUEST- Wyprawa Odkrywców

Krynica Promenade Trivia

Theme:

The expedition is an introduction to interesting locations and buildings around the Krynica Promenade.

How to play and find the Quest Treasure:

Go to Start. Read all clues. Solve all riddles. Once you reach the end of the itinerary, you will have an answer leading you to the treasure – a commemorative stamp! The quest is accessible daily from 08:30 a.m. until 04:30 p.m.

Start line:

Circular newsstand/kiosk near the southern Promenade entrance. GPS: 49.415227, 20.956328

Walking time:

ca. 50-60 min.

Discover Lemkowie Highlanders!

Originally inhabiting lands along the Eastern Carpathians' centreline, the Lemkos would later be scattered kemkowie throughout Poland as a result of displacement decisions. Yet it is around Krynica-Zdrój that most traces of their presence are found

Welcome to our springs, dear Explorer! We'd love you to join us - as we are callers for discovering, searching, watching and counting. The kiosk is your start line. Time for pavement pounding.

The Promenade (Polish: Deptak) lies straight ahead. Peat Baths (built in 1880) to your right, enough said to praise them by mentioning Juliana the Queen of the Netherlands, who here has been to seek treatment. Old Mineral Baths are your next stop. Translation in Polish? Read beneath the top:

KPASTE NSKIEGO

Shows three turrets and three avant-corps broad.

Check the nearby panel to be told in the last line that Doctor $\begin{bmatrix} 1 \\ 10 \end{bmatrix}_{10}$ overlooked the Baths' design.

To see a beautiful fountain - take the Nowotarski Allev. To see its wondrous colours, many come to dally on summertime evenings. Its enchanting lights will capture your heart too. Now, further on the right: the Main Mineral Water Pumps of healing liquid springs. Zuber, Zdrój Główny, Słotwinka. Some of them can sting the tongue. Right next door - the Band Shell, Krynica's Orchestra playing here often and well. Above the step - a medallion. Walk close up to see: Famous tenor Jan _____ sang here to the glee 18 of delighted audiences. It's time to turn around. The 19th-century Old SPA House is suitably grand, the white panel stand revealing all its mysteries.

 $\begin{array}{c} - - \\ - \\ 23 \end{array}$ was its German name, referred in history recalled in the second line. See? It's the last word. Of the palatial edifice praise was sung and heard politicians, artists, writers were all guests. First Marshal of Poland Piłsudski remembered best in a commemorative plaque. Keep the building to your left, and walk to the corner. A café! Its name? You'll need to be deft:

it's in Polish – _____ i Zdrój 6

(Chocolate and Spring Spa). Turn left and drink water from a source in awe of its patron. Mieczysław Dukiet was the name. a medical doctor of many specialties, in Krynica he became something of a legend. Now walk to the stream it's called Kryniczanka. Across its bridges' beams:

PARK ZDROJOWY the villa _____. Turquoise, built of wood, it holds Nikifor's Museum. Somewhere else it stood, later to be transferred to this enchanting place. Drop by to learn more of the artist's oeuvre and grace. Consult the white panel yet again. An old villa stood here. The name $\begin{bmatrix} 1 \\ 8 \end{bmatrix}_{21}^{1}$, in line five in quotation marks appears. Consumed by fire, it is no more. An array was compiled of eclectic "Swiss villas". The current one's in that style.

PYNICZA

NOWOT

Dietla Boulevard (Polish: Bulwar) you need to walk down, to 12 - 12 - 12 - 12 Korona – the Hungarian Crown.

What a charming name. And their coffee's great. A good time for a breather, and maybe a plate.

A familiar white panel of knowledge stands near. When was the Crown built? What was the year? Around eighteen $\begin{array}{c} - & - \\ - & 9 \end{array}$. And the house behind gleams with many windows. "Świteź" reads the sign.

The villa was owned by the $\begin{bmatrix} 1 \\ 5 \end{bmatrix} \begin{bmatrix} 1 \\ -5 \end{bmatrix} \begin{bmatrix} 1 \$

the nearby panel reminiscing the villa's history. A red-brown building is home to the local music school. The villa called "Kosynier" - "Scythe-holder". That's so cool!

It's another edifice in so-called SPA style. Get ready for more knowledge – it'll take but a while to reach the next questhouse with a modernistic frame, and made of brick. "Małopolanka" is this villa's name.

The local restaurant has been dubbed "Two Saints". their cuisine recommended, though the handle quaint. The second line of the panel will tell you the last name of the villa's architect. ____ joined our game.

The next villa – "Białej Róży" (White Rose) holds flats. It used to be a questhouse. It's well-known in that the blessed Maria Teresa painting landscapes and portraits – Krynica affairs

The villa "Tatrzańska" will soon come into sight, it replaced the "Lion" guesthouse which burned down one night.

(line eight) café was a piece of heaven.

a shoemaker (in "Tatrzańska") in 1937

made a pair of winter boots for of Dutch royals,

The

14

mentioned before. On a boulevard named after a loyal balneologist to the local springs, for "Witoldówka" watch out doctor Skórczewski fed his patients here with fruit and with sprouts.

Kryniczanka Stream surroundings deserve a detailed look. See the local monument to a man known for his books? In the square, a little further, somewhat to your right, Mickiewicz the poet and his heroine Zosia* come into sight.

> Bevond them, a church upon a hill. It has here stood since 1864, the whole structure of wood. It's the Transfiguration of Jesus sanctuary, the oldest one in Krynica, its tradition carried for more than a century. Further, beyond a shop with books, another wooden house. Its many windows look like open eyes. The "White Eagle" belonged to the family Zawadowski: Julian as the mayor went down in history, > Helena was godmother to "Krynica" - the ship. Continue down the river. To the left you'll see a hip green building. "Wisła" (Vistula), like the river. Worth a visit - of the local cream cake just a sliver is to die for. Classical music critic, writer, journalist Kaczyński stayed here.

His effigy can't be missed, sitting in a middle chair, as elegant as can be, a pleasure for opera music lovers his likeness to see.

* some claim the female figure to be Maryla Wereszczakówna, object of the poet's unrequited love.